About Y'sU

Y'sU, Wise U Youngsan University is a university where students succeed. By flexibly changing the curriculum to respond to students' aptitudes and the needs of society, we are building a non-boundary convergence education system that combines various academic fields by breaking down the boundaries between departments and majors.

We operate a step-by-step career guidance program from admission to graduation to help students discover their aptitudes, providing core competency-focused education through interdisciplinary majors, flexible semester systems, and intensive course programs, fostering the professional knowledge and practical skills required by society and businesses.

We offer a comprehensive support system designed to facilitate international students' quick adaptation to life in Korea, including one-on-one mentoring with Korean students to enhance academic abilities, and diverse Korean cultural experience programs to help international students become integrated members of the local community.

We are actively pursuing the diversification of university education and the globalization of our campus to enhance our students' global competencies. Through partnerships with 230 universities and educational/government institutions across 40 countries worldwide, we are creating a truly global educational environment. This initiative aims to promote international exchanges and establish a platform where both the university and its students can emerge as leaders in growth and innovation.

2. Important Notes on Document Submission

A. Applicants from universities located overseas must obtain an Apostille or consular verification for the original graduation (or expected graduation) certificate submitted during the application process.

1) If obtaining an Apostille or consular verification is not possible at the time of application, applicants may submit the original graduation (or expected graduation) certificate and proceed with the application. However, if admitted, they must submit a graduation certificate with Apostille or consular verification, so it is strongly recommended to prepare this in advance. (Graduation certificates indicating "expected graduation" will not be accepted after admission.)

2) While copies of graduation certificates with attached Apostille or consular verification are acceptable, the Apostille or consular verification itself must be submitted in its original form.

3) Applicants from universities located in China must submit both the English version of the Ministry of Education's academic verification certificate and a notarized copy of the graduation (or expected graduation) certificate issued by their university.

B. Academic transcripts do not require Apostille or consular verification

1) If the grading system is not based on a 4.0, 4.3, 4.5 scale, or a percentage system, applicants must submit explanatory documentation issued by their university or by an official institution in the country where the university is located. (Failure to submit this may result in disadvantages.)

2) If the transcript does not include a GPA format, applicants must submit additional documents that verify GPA (or class rank, percentage, etc.).

3) All submitted documents must be official and include a seal or signature. Missing seals or signatures may result in disadvantages.

C. Documents written in languages other than Korean or English must be submitted with notarized translations into Korean or English.

1) If documents written in languages other than Korean or English include bilingual text (Korean or English alongside another language), and all content can be verified, notarized translations are not required.

D. Final admitted applicants must submit original copies of their degree certificates (or graduation certificates specifying the degree title), verified through Apostille, consular confirmation, or China's Higher Education Student Information Network (CHSI), as well as original academic transcripts before enrollment.

If you pass (admission) through fraudulent methods such as forgery of documents or false materials, your admission will be canceled.

3. Information Regarding Apostille and Consular Verification

A. For documents from countries that are part of the Apostille Agreement, Apostille verification must be obtained. (In the case of China, both the original document with Apostille verification and the electronic academic credential report from the China Higher Education Student Information and Career Center (CHESICC) (<http://www.chsi.com.cn>) must be submitted.)

B. For documents from countries that are not part of the Apostille Agreement, consular verification must be obtained from the Korean Consulate in the country where the issuing school is located or from the consulate of the applicant's home country in Korea.

4. Notes on the Apostille Agreement

A. An agreement abolishing the requirement of legalization for foreign public documents. (Effective in South Korea from July 14, 2007)

B. For mutual authentication of public documents between participating countries, the issuing country provides verification, eliminating the need for consular authentication at overseas diplomatic missions.

C. Documents from participating countries bearing an Apostille certification have the same legal effect as those with consular authentication from overseas diplomatic missions.

D. The latest information, including details about relevant institutions in each country, can be found in the Apostille Section of the Hague Conference on Private International Law website (www.hcch.net).

5. Apostille Issuance Procedure

A. Official Documents (National & Public Schools)

B. Private School and more

※ For private documents, the process may vary depending on the notary laws and attorney regulations of the respective country. However, it is generally possible to obtain Apostille verification after having the document notarized in that country..
