How to apply for international student dormitory move-in for the second semester of the 2026 academic year (September)

1. How to Apply

1. Access the official Yangsan University student dormitory website (<https://dorm.ysu.ac.kr>) and click 'Apply for Residency (International Students)'.
2. Only dormitories on campus where your department is located are eligible to apply.
3. After logging in, you must fill out the application form with your student ID, name, date of birth, gender, affiliated campus, room type, mobile phone number, and refund account information.
4. For student ID, enter your current student ID, and for the password, enter either the first 7 digits of your foreign registration number or your own student ID.
5. Room types can be selected in multiple ways, and Yangsan Dormitory offers double and quadruple rooms.
6. Personal information (student ID, date of birth, gender) must be accurately verified, and the campus affiliation cannot be changed.
7. When entering refund account information, if you do not have a Korean bank account, select 'Overseas Remittance' and enter your account number.
8. Before final submission, you may review your application details and reapply after 'confirming' or 'deleting'.
9. During the application period, multiple applications and submissions are allowed, but only the final submission is preserved.
10. On the application screen, you can check the final application details through 'Receipt Confirmation.'

2. How to Verify Successful Candidates

1. You can check the results through the 'Check Acceptance' menu on the official student dormitory website.
2. On-campus dormitories must be checked on the 'Student Dormitory Official Website - Successful Candidate Confirmation' menu, while off-campus accommodations must be checked on the 'Student Dormitory Official Website - Announcements'.
3. Successful candidates must accurately verify their personal information, and the room type they were accepted can also be viewed.
4. Unsuccessful candidates cannot access any information.

1. Students must have paid tuition for the second semester of the 2026 academic year.
2. The selection method will be announced separately.
3. Dormitory use is not allowed in the following cases:
 1. If your academic GPA for the previous semester is below 2.0 (excluding transfer students)
 2. If you have received disciplinary action of suspension or higher
 3. If you have been dismissed from your company
4. Dormitory students in the first semester of 2026 who have accumulated 10 or more demerit points
5. If dormitory life is deemed impossible due to illness or other reasons
6. Cases where poor attitude leads to violations of community discipline and behavior, or harm to others

5. Other Precautions

1. You are responsible for any disadvantages caused by your negligence, such as failure to apply within the application period or incorrect personal information.
2. For inquiries, please contact the dormitory administration office (not the department administration office).
3. Dormitory applications outside the campus of your department are not allowed.
4. If academic grades or penalty points for the first semester of 2026 qualify for move-in restrictions, acceptance for this semester may be canceled.
5. If you wish to move in early or extend your stay outside your scheduled move-in date, you must contact the administrative office separately, and additional fees may apply.
